Bill McLeod works with businesses, government agencies and associations that are committed to training, motivating, and retaining highly productive employees. He is a motivational speaker who specializes in enhancing employees' potential by looking within themselves and finding the strength and will to succeed in business and life. He has helped tens of thousands of people through his work at www.singleparentstown.com, his weekly radio show, and numerous speaking engagements. Bills story is one of perseverance, determination and success. As a full time single father he has had to overcome the challenges of raising children while their mother suffered through alcoholism, depression and eventually death. His ability to inspire and educate all parents in a highly energetic, innovative and passionate manner is unparalleled. Your audience will leave Bills presentation with a sense of empowerment, a positive attitude and a commitment to succeeding no matter what life throws at them.

WHAT PEOPLE ARE SAYING

"Bill McLeod brings a fresh voice and a balanced approach to parenting issues. His passion and commitment are evident in his show. He was well-prepared for my interview, kept the conversation lively and wasn't afraid to dive into some important issues that parents need to be thinking about... You do it well!" Beth Wilson, best-selling author, speaker and Transformational Life Coach

"I just adored my time with Bill on the Bill McLeod show. The conversation flowed from the second we went on air. He really got to the heart of my message. And, all the while, I felt like I was in a cozy sitting room chatting with friends. Bill is a gifted interviewer with a magnetic personality and a priceless and authentic message. If you get the chance to work with him ... Jump at it!" Jennifer Broadley, Founder & Director SUCCESSFUL SINGLE PARENTING

Bill is a very caring individual who draws his audience to him in almost a magical manner. It is also obvious to me that The Bill McLeod Show is but only another step for Bill toward greater command and draw of a more national, perhaps international audience. Dr. Terrance S. Hitchcock
